ARREST OF LOVE
IN SAN FRANCISCO

The Chronicle of the 11th has the following report of the arrest in San Francisco of Private Love for embezzlement from the U. S. Marine Corps post here:

Accused of embezzling considerable funds from the Honolulu post of the United States marine corps, Private Eugene A. Love, 28 years of age and recently in charge of commissary department of that post, was arrested early yesterday morning on board the steamship Sierra on the arrival of that vessel in port from Hawaii by Detective Sergeant Frank McGrayan.
Love denied that he was guilty of embezzlement, but was turned over to T.
W. Metter, second officer on the United States training ship Pensacola, and will be taken to Mare Island and later tried by court-martial.

The local police were requested to assist in the arrest of Love by Rear-Admiral C. B. T. Moore, and elaborate precautions were also taken by the navy department to prevent Love from slipping through its fingers.

Love came in the first cabin on the Sierra and is said to have displayed much gaiety during the voyage and made many friends. The police understand that the amount of his alleged shortage is $2500. Love has a wife residing in Honolulu and has relatives in Buffalo, N. Y.

The Harrison Concert.

Last night's rehearsal proved to the listeners that a musical treat was in store for the audience tonight. The

MAINE BOILERS
FOUND INTACT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—It has developed beyond controversy in connection with the excavation going on in of the Maine in Havana harbor that the ship was not blown up by her boilers.

Some have contended that the explosion of the boilers caused the magazines to explode in turn. A report from the army engineers shows the workmen uncovered the tops of the boilers, which were intact with one exception. This was one of the forward boilers, which had been driven bodily astern by the blast from the magazines. It had gone through a heavy bulkhead and against one of the after boilers.

Another curious find was an ammunition case which had been blown off from the magazines into the rear boiler room without exploding the smokeless powder it contained.

The report shows that instead of being able to float only the after third of the hull, it has been found that more than half of the ship can be pumped out and floated out of the dam.

If you are entered in The Star's big contest you can't help getting a good prize if you hustle, even if you don't get the $750.

SCHOOL REPORT

is not yet completed. The Hanama-ulu school is overcrowded a lot, but the Koolau school is doing well now that the regular teacher is working.

On Oahu the attendance at the schools was much larger than was anticipated, and about ten more teachers are required at present. Wai-pahu, Aiea, Waiaina and Kahuku schools are crowded so much that school time has to be divided into half-day sessions for lower grades in order that all children may attend.
This is somewhat of a hardship both for teachers and pupils, but the scheme is working fairly well.

The Maui schools opened with but few difficulties, and things are running smoothly there. Several teachers who were appointed to positions failed to report for duty, but their places have been filled.

On Hawaii the Kohala and Hamakua schools have had the least difficulty in getting started. The Hilo and Puna schools found it difficult to get teachers housed. There are few places where teachers can board in those districts.

The Glenwood school is at present being conducted in temporary quarters. A new school at Kepehu, about five miles from Laupahoehoe, is being arranged for. Seats were made in Hilo and placed in a little church that had been loaned for school purposes.

In the report of the Superintendent, the death of Mrs. King is alluded to, great regret being expressed at her loss.

The Hilo Union schools are, according to the report, in a very crowded condition. More rooms are needed and the present conditions are very trying to teachers and pupils.

In regard to the school library fund, it is reported that the sum of $3600, which was appropriated by the last legislature will be apportioned according to the enrollment as shown by the last term reports. The distribution of the fund will be as follows: County of Hawaii, $1188; County of Maui, $612; City and County of Honolulu, $1332; County of Kauai, $468.

In apportioning these amounts the grade of each school is considered.

President David Starr Jordan of Stanford will be here on Saturday, on his way home from the Orient, and will probably attend the Carnegie library cornerstone laying.

Seven hundred and fifty dollars for a few weeks' hustling—see the contest announcement in this issue.

The chief officer says that the men are lazy and unwilling to work, that they want to draw their money here and go on a spree. He also says that an ordinary seaman was put in the fire room to help out and that he liked it so well that he begged to be given the job permanently.

Since the Lodorer flies the British flag, it appears that the proper authority to appeal to would have been the British consul. When this was suggested to the firemen, they said that they didn't know that, but when the question was asked the chief officer he said that the reason they did not go to the representative of Great Britain was because they had no case.

Exactly what authority the shipping things then, that we most need to put lations with Oregon are a steamship are producing."

Pineapple Industry Grows.

"Our islands have only begun to realize the possibilities for producing that lie within them. A few years ago our pineapple industry was comparatively small. Last year our exports in pineapples amounted to more than $5, 000,000, and Hawaii has practically taken away the pineapple trade from Singapore, which held it in the past.
Cotton is another product that we have only begun to work, but which promises to make millions, and we are now raising tobacco that equals the best leaf grown in Sumatra."

Mr. Wood says that large American corporations are steadily gaining a firmer foothold in the islands as they realize more clearly that it is the most strategic point in the Pacific from a commercial as well as a military viewpoint. The Standard Oil Company is establishing large stations for the supply of fuel to ships.

"The fuel of ocean-going vessels will consist mainly of gasoline and oil products in the near future," said Mr.
Wood. "Knowing this, the great company is taking steps beforehand to prepare for the increase of shipping that will go to Hawaii after the opening of the canal. In the future Honolulu will be made the great clearinghouse for all the ships that sail the Pacific Ocean."

Fair Prompts Visit.

Mr. Wood came to San Francisco last week, as chairman of a committee appointed by Governor Frear, to arrange for Hawaii's representation at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. After completing his business in San Francisco, he came to Portland to look over the trade situation and confer with the representatives of the Portland Chamber of Commerce on the commercial relations with the islands. He will leave this morning for Vancouver, B.
